ESTEEM classes for patients with early-onset Dementia

These classes are a great way for me and my family to meet other families in similar situations.
A Dementia-Friendly Singapore

It is a community where:

| People in the community know about dementia and how to respond to them and support their caregivers |
| Environments will be safe for persons with dementia |
| Dementia resources are readily available in the community |
| Persons with dementia feel included and are well supported |

Where people with dementia and their caregivers are well-supported in the community

Facing Dementia
Sunday | 8:00 PM
FACING DEMENTIA looks at one of the most pressing social and medical issues of our time. By 2030, some 90,000 Singaporeans are projected to have dementia. This series covers various aspects from diagnosis to caregiving to treatments, and debunks some misconceptions about the condition.
